HUGE SOVIET PLANE OVER POLAR REGION ON WAY TO AMERICA

Sigmund Levaneffsky and Five Companions Take Off From Moscow With Reports Differing as to Destination in United States—To Refuel At Fairbanks—May Follow B.C. Coast

SEATTLE, Aug. 12 (AP).—Four miles above the earth, a big red Russian monoplane with six persons aboard zoomed over the North Pole exactly sixteen hours and eighteen minutes after it left Moscow, and headed for Fairbanks, Alaska, tonight, Sigmund Levaneffsky reported at 11:31 p.m. P.S.T., in a message received by A. Vartanian, official Soviet representative here, that the plane passed over the Pole at that time.

SEATTLE, Aug. 12 (AP).—A Vartanian, official Soviet representative, reported tonight the trans-Polar flyers radiated at 8 p.m. P.S.T. that they were over Alexandra Land on the European side of the North Pole. Earlier they had reported they were flying at a speed of 185 miles an hour at an elevation of four miles.

Vartanian said an official change had been made in the plane's destination and that the flyers would eventually make their destination the Oakland, Calif., Airport.

He said the flyers definitely would not go to New York or Chicago, but would first fly to Fairbanks, stopping there "only long enough to take on gasoline and check motors and fly down the coast."

He said the flyers probably would pass over Vancouver, B.C., and Seattle and follow the coastline down to Oakland.

MAY MAKE OTHER LANDINGS
Vartanian indicated the flyers might make other landings while traveling down the coast to Oakland. He pointed out that the purpose of the flight was to inaugurate passenger service from Moscow to the United States.

FIND NINETEEN DEAD IN RUINS

Rescue Workers Sent Five Others to Hospital After Building Collapses

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP).—Wearied searchers and official investigators focused their attention tonight on the debris of the Staten Island tenement building in which at least nineteen persons lost their lives last night. One official called it "the worst tragedy in years."

Five were injured and in hospital. Two were possibly missing and were sought in the wreckage of the structure, which collapsed after flood waters undermined its foundations.

Fallen bricks and splintered wood still filled the deep cellars under the forty-year-old building, which had housed eight families and which went down in the rushing stream flowing down the narrow cobbled street after a thunder shower.

INQUIRY ORDERED

A board of inquiry was called tonight by Richmond Borough President Joseph Palma. Separate investigations were ordered by New York Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine, who called the tragedy "the worst of its kind in years" and by the Fire Department and District Attorney Frank Ives, of Richmond Borough.

Two days ago, Palma said, a building department inspector had labeled the structure "safe."

Lady Tweedsmuir and their Excellencies' youngest son, Hon. Alastair Buchanan, reached Edmonton on Wednesday night aboard the viceregal train from the coast, where they had spent two weeks while the Governor-General was on his tour down the Mackenzie to the Arctic coast. He was at the station to meet them when the train drew in, and spent some time visiting them before returning to the hotel for the night.

The Governor-General was reported to be in splendid physical condition after his 4,000-mile trip by water and air to the Arctic and back, and eager to start his tour of British Columbia.

Bernie Schwengers And Garrett Reach Seniors' Golf Final

Two Victoria Veterans Will Meet This Morning For Grand Championship—Thatcher and Ruggles Lose Close Semi-Final Contests

FOR the third successive year the grand championship of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association will stay in Victoria. Yesterday at the Oak Bay links Bernie Schwengers and H. G. Garrett stroked their way into the final by eliminating J. W. Ruggles and R. E. Thatcher, Seattle, respectively. Schwengers marched into the last bracket by virtue of his one-up victory over Ruggles, who played the role of the "giant killer" the day previous by dethroning the defending champion, Hon. John Hart, while Garrett accounted for the last of the American contingent, 2 and 1.

The pair will meet this morning over the eighteen-hole distance, commencing at 10 o'clock, for the title held by Finance Minister Hart for the last two years.

Shooting a par on the first and another on the short second, Schwengers went two up on Ruggles. They halved the third and then Ruggles won back the fourth with a

Italian Destroyer Blamed By Captain for Torpedo Sinking of Spanish Ship

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—The 7,434-ton freighter Hope-mount collided today with the steam drifter Oway ninety-five miles in a North Sea fog off the River Tyne. The Oway sank. Three of her crew were missing, while six others, picked up by the Hope-mount, were taken to Wallsend. The Oway was en route to the fishing grounds from North Shields.

Decidedly Stout For Any Serpent

FORTUNE HARBOR, Nfld., Aug. 12 (AP).—This little Notre Dame Bay fishing village has a sea-serpent all its own—and has the carcass to prove it.

After a two-day battle with guns, harpoons and lances, fishermen brought the monster ashore today. It was thirty-five feet long and had a girth of twenty-five feet with a tail nine feet across. It has flippers but no fins. Nobody has been able to identify it yet.

SLAYER HAS TWO VICTIMS

High Military Officials of Iraq Are Shot Down By Assassin

BAGDAD, Aug. 12 (AP).—The assassin who shot two high-ranking military officials in Iraq was identified today as Abdullah Ibrahim, described as a Kurdish Moslem. Authorities believed a "blood feud" lay behind the killings yesterday at Mosul.

Iraq gave a state funeral to Major-General Bekh Sidki Pasha, Minister of Defence, and Colonel Mohammed Ali Jawad, chief of the Iraq air force, the slain officials.

General Sidki had been the strong man of the kingdom, considered the power behind the throne of King Ghazi, since last October, when he led a military coup d'etat which placed a new government in office.

SHOT ON LAWN

The officers were shot yesterday as they rested on the airfield lawn at Mosul, 220 miles northwest of this capital. They were en route to Turkey to attend war manoeuvres. The assassin fired many bullets into Sidki's body and slew Col. Jawad as he tried to save his superior.

Iraq, or Mesopotamia, was formerly part of the Turkish Empire. It was wrested from Turkey by British forces in the Great War and was administered as a British mandate until 1927, when the Anglo-Iraq treaty recognized it as an independent state.

King Ghazi succeeded to the throne in 1933 on the death of his father, King Faisal, Iraq's first king.

WILL APPEAL TO ELECTORS

Hepburn Says C.I.O. Invasion to Be Issue in Ontario Election Soon

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 12 (AP).—Premier Mitchell Hepburn tonight announced a general Ontario election "in a short time." Without indicating the date, he told a rally of 3,000 Elgin County Liberals he would seek endorsement of the Ontario electorate.

Foremost issue, he said, was his unalterable opposition to the "invasion" of Ontario by the Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization. He reiterated his determination to keep John L. Lewis' agitators out of this country.

OTHER ISSUES

Along with the C.I.O. issue was the question of the Government's continued investigation of succession duty frauds and its determination to free Ontario hydro-electric power users from subservience to "Montreal power barons."

Mr. Hepburn recalled he had earlier stated his Government would not go to the country till after next session. Repeated challenges by Hon. Earle Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, on three major issues necessary to test the mind of the people of Ontario on these matters, he said.

The Premier's commitment of the province to a general election came in his address of acceptance of the Liberal nomination for Elgin riding.

STORMS PREVENT HUNT FOR PLANE

Wrecked Machine Reported Floating Off Newfoundland Coast—No Clue to Identity

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 12 (AP).—Gales raging over Newfoundland tonight prevented the take-off of a plane to search the Cape St. Francis district, about twenty-five miles from here, for a plane reported floating nine miles off the cape.

Although all aircraft in the Newfoundland-Labrador district were accounted for, reports about a fortnight ago of a mysterious plane flying eastward in mid-Atlantic were recalled as searchers speculated over the identity of the machine's crew.

DELEGATION IS PROMISED AID

B.C. Manufacturers Urge Continuation of Tariff Preferences in Britain

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (AP).—Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Dominion Defence Minister who represents Vancouver Centre riding in the House of Commons, today told a delegation from the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association he would present their plea for continuation of existing tariff preferences in the United Kingdom market.

Mr. Mackenzie told the delegation their representations would have his "complete endorsement" at Ottawa.

R. W. Mayhew, of Victoria, led the delegation, which submitted that United Kingdom preferences have resulted in large increases of business, especially in lumber, mineral and canned fruit industries, and have been effective in preserving British markets for Canada in face of non-empire competition.

The delegation said any reduction of British preferences might prejudice negotiations now under way with other Dominions for new trade agreements.

Fears Felt for Safety of Foreigners as Thousands Of Japanese and Chinese Fighting Men Face Each Other Behind Barriades on Fringe Of International Concession

Leaders Stated Unwilling To Recognize Neutrality

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13 (AP).—Hostilities broke out in the northeastern quarter of Shanghai's International Settlement today as Japanese bluejackets on patrol and Chinese plain-clothes men exchanged fire.

The conflict developed in a situation made acute by the arrival of Japanese reinforcements in the last two days and the moving in yesterday of detachments of Chinese regular troops. Other parts of the settlement were heavily guarded.

British forces patrolled a three-mile front, while to their right Shanghai's volunteer corps, consisting of foreign residents augmented by a Russian company, occupied a dangerous sector adjacent to the Chinese within Chapei. Chinese forces of the city. United States marines were to the right of the British.

INTERNATIONAL FORCES
British troops, 950 strong, were mobilized with the United States, French and other international forces to protect the foreign communities of China's largest city, including 9,000 Britons.

Foreign officials feared the nationals might be in even greater danger than in 1932, for Chinese leaders indicated they were unwilling to respect the neutrality of the foreign-controlled sections of Shanghai — the international settlement and the French concession — as they did in 1932.

The present Shanghai phase of the undeclared Chinese-Japanese war, full of tension since the killing of two Japanese naval men and a Chinese gangster Monday night, became acute when it was established that strong forces of Chinese

Eleven Injured In Auto Smash

One Man in Critical Condition After Spectacular Collision in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (AP).—Hospital authorities tonight reported collision of Stanley Paulker, Leithbridge, Alta., visitor who was injured with ten other persons in a spectacular traffic accident here late last night was "very poor."

Two others of the injured—Miss Mary Gentleman, of Vancouver, and Frank Crawford, of Leithbridge, were said to be in "fair" condition. Miss E. Jones and Miss Mary Parker, student nurses with Miss Gentleman at Vancouver General Hospital, were said to be recovering.

RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

The other six hurt in the crash—Spencer Wright, Reginald McFarlane, Miss Joan Mills and Miss Muriel Matthews, of Vancouver, and William Domeier, of Leithbridge—were released from hospital today. City police still held Domeier, driver of one of the cars involved, on a charge of driving to the common danger.

Police reports said the two cars collided with terrific force, the impact carrying both of them across the width of a wide residential area intersection and hurling them into a depression near the roadway.

Insurgents Driving on Santander

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Border Aug. 12 (AP).—Spanish insurgents renewed their "drive-or-obliteration" against Santander today, while Government air forces repeatedly raided insurgent-held cities west and southwest of Madrid.

Details of the Santander drive were withheld, although the daily communiqué by insurgent General Francisco Franco admitted it was under way and claimed it had scored important advances.

From the Government side came a report that there had been additional uprisings against insurgent rule in Andalusia and at Fra de Albarracin in Terrence.

Twelve-Hour Deluge Does Heavy Damage in Quebec and District

Several Families Made Homeless—Eleven Cars Derailed by Washout on Railway—Bridge Is Wrecked When Abutments Torn Away

QUEBEC, Aug. 12 (AP).—Waters from the worst rainstorm to beat down on this district in thirty years subsided today, leaving in their wake several homeless families, damage reckoned in the thousands of dollars and a disastrous washout on a railway line near here.

Canadian Pacific Railway Company officials said right-of-way at several small rivers and streams in and around the district. Levis directly across the St. Lawrence River from Quebec, also suffered heavily, while the island of Orleans, down the harbor from here, was hard hit.

Parishes west of the city including Cap Rouge and Sillery, were under water for several hours. A bridge spanning the Cap Rouge River was partly wrecked when turbulent waters carried away abutments.

NEWEST TYPE OF AIRCRAFT TESTED

Big Flying Boat to Give Little One Start in Air—Larger Plane Tried Out

ROCHESTER, England, Aug. 13 (CP-Havas).—The four-motored flying boat which will inaugurate a spectacular development in aviation by launching a smaller trans-Atlantic boat from its cabin roof, was tested today in the presence of newspapermen and aeronautic experts.

The two planes together will be known as "the Mayo composite aircraft." The plan calls for the larger ship to carry the smaller high in the air and give her a start on her journey, thus conserving the smaller plane's gasoline which would not be used for the take-off and initial climbing.

The designers claim the smaller ship will have a flying range of 3,500 miles after leaving the mother ship.

W. J. V. Church, chief factor of Native Sons of British Columbia Post No. 1, will officiate as chairman at the ceremony. Bruce A. McKelvie, grand factor of the Native Sons' order, will give an address, which will be followed by the introduction by Mrs. James Brown, chief factor of Native Daughters of British Columbia Post No. 3, of the citizen who has been selected to be the recipient of the good citizenship medal this year. The presentation will then take place.

The awarding of the Appreciation Medal is now a voting or popularity contest, and the judges named by the two posts do not take into consideration the number of nominations received for any one candidate. The judges select from among the candidates nominated the person who they believe has best exemplified the ideals of good citizenship as the one to receive the "Best Citizen" honor.

Schooner Nina Matilda Reports Aircraft Not Up Off Coast Of Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 12 (C)—Captain John Dodge, of the Newfoundland schooner Nina Matilda, reported today he had sighted a grey airplane floating bottom-up, nine miles off Cape St. Francis, on the northeastern tip of the Avalon Peninsula.

Members of the crew said they could see the propeller rising and falling, and could make out the pontoons. There was no sign of life aboard the plane.

The Public Works Department of Newfoundland Commission of Government launched an investigation to attempt to determine the name of the plane and the crew who had crashed.

About two weeks ago, there were reports never verified, of a mysterious plane flying over the mid-Atlantic.

POLL AND ROAD TAXES SOUGHT

Civic Corporations Will Take Vigorous Action to Obtain Payment

The City of Victoria and the Municipality of Saanich will take vigorous action to obtain the payment of poll and road taxes.

Yesterday, the city announced regulations governing the registration of civic voters, coupling with it the statement that demand notices for the payment of poll and road taxes would be issued to those who had failed to pay the 1937 levies by the end of the month.

The Saanich Council will advertise the fact that poll and road taxes and dog licence fees are past due, and that if not paid by the end of the month, prosecution may follow.

WHO MAY VOTE
In the city, any British subject who has paid the current year's poll and road tax is entitled to vote. If an individual was registered last year, payment of this year's taxes will keep his name on the list. If he was not registered last year, he must do so between September 1 and October 31, to be able to vote.

Women may vote under the same conditions, provided always that they have paid the two dollar road tax.

Those exempt—members of the militia forces of His Majesty, women over sixty years of age, and veterans medically unfit who pay the road tax, may vote without renewing registrations.

License holders paying taxes by October 31, for the second half of the current year, are automatically placed on the list. Those not listed last year, and who have paid current taxes must register between September 1 and October 31 to be able to vote.

Limited liability companies, subject to such provisions, may name a representative to vote for them.

FILMS INQUIRY REPORTED UPON
James M. Coady Hands Seven-Month Report to B.C. Government

After seven months' investigation of film theatres at Vancouver, Seattle and elsewhere, James M. Coady, Vancouver commissioner appointed by the Province under the Public Inquiries Act to inquire into the necessity or otherwise for two licensed projectionists on duty at screen theatres, reported yesterday to the Government, upholding provincial regulations and finding largely against the projectionists.

In a twenty-page report, Mr. Coady, a Mainland barrister, tells of his exhaustive study into film projection rooms and theatre practices, and evidence taken between January 9 and August 9, 1937.

REPORTS FINDINGS
He held, in part, that the change from silent to sound films has not increased the work of projectionists as much as represented; that fire hazard is adequately handled as at present; that rewind rooms are advisable, but not absolutely necessary; and that there is in his opinion no need of two full time licensed projectionists on duty in major film theatres.

The commissioner advocates the provincial plan of first and second class licences for projectionists, with apprenticeship, and with some modification of present arrangements for examinations.

Mr. Coady reported disagreement between theatre owners and projectionists on several of the points at issue, but held mainly with the owners on most points raised. In effect, the report supports provincial regulations as amended last year.

MAN KILLED IN CAMP ACCIDENT
Rene Peppin Dies at Nitinat Lake—Injured Companion To Be Flown Here

Piloted by Donald Lawson, a fast Canadian Airways seaplane was expected to leave here today at daybreak for Port Renfrew, where a logger, long seriously injured, Lawson will be accompanied by Dr. Frank M. Bryant and a nurse. The pilot arrived from Vancouver early last evening, but could not risk a hazardous landing off the West Coast port in darkness.

Constable S. Menzies informed Provincial Police headquarters here yesterday that Rene Peppin, logger, had been killed in an accident at Sorsensen's Camp, Nitinat Lake. Another man was seriously injured in the same accident. He was conveyed to Port Renfrew and a seaplane ordered to fly him to a hospital here. Details of the mishap are lacking.

Orchestra Coming in November

Announcement is made that the popular Seattle Symphony Orchestra will again visit the city. Sponsored by George J. Dyke, they will give a programme on Tuesday, November 30.

On this occasion Dr. Basil Cameron, the conductor, will bring with him some extra music, and Mr. Dyke has made the suggestion that the programme be built up chiefly with request numbers from Victoria's lovers of symphonic music. The orchestra therefore hopes that any who wish for special numbers to be played will leave a message at Fletcher Bros' store at the earliest possible date, so that rehearsals may be held.

Dr. Cameron is at present in Europe securing some novelties, and proposes to bring with him for the evening some of this new music. The choice of soloist has not yet been decided.

ZONING BODY IS TO RECONSIDER

Apartment House Question On Moss Street Comes Before Supreme Court

The question of the granting of approval to convert the six-roomed house at 619 Moss Street into an apartment house will go back to the zoning board of appeal of the city for reconsideration. This was the effect of a judgment given in Supreme Court Chambers by Mr. Justice Manson yesterday on application made by Gordon A. Cameron, representing interested parties.

The property belongs to Major C. Hay and application was made to the zoning board of appeal for the approval sought. Opposition from H. A. Maclean and Mrs. E. J. Palmer was filed against the granting of approval and the zoning board, composed of S. M. Armstrong, E. E. Heath and W. P. Marchant, in due course refused to approve.

MUST REHEAR MATTER
The application to the court yesterday by Mr. Cameron was one in which it was set out that the board acted incorrectly and he asked for a writ of certiorari to quash the order made by the board and also for a writ of mandamus requiring the board to reconsider its decision.

At the hearing yesterday, attention was called to the opinion expressed by Mr. Marchant as a member of the board that the question involved one for the council to decide and that this decision had been given when the council passed the order setting out the conditions upon which the conversion of a house could be made to an apartment.

His Lordship held that Mr. Marchant was correct in his interpretation of the law and ordered the writ of certiorari making it absolute in quashing the board's decision. He also granted the writ of mandamus requiring a rehearing by the board, reserving the question of costs in the matter.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 12 (C)—Captain John Dodge, of the Newfoundland schooner Nina Matilda, reported today he had sighted a grey airplane floating bottom-up, nine miles off Cape St. Francis, on the northeastern tip of the Avalon Peninsula.

Members of the crew said they could see the propeller rising and falling, and could make out the pontoons. There was no sign of life aboard the plane.

The Public Works Department of Newfoundland Commission of Government launched an investigation to attempt to determine the name of the plane and the crew who had crashed.

About two weeks ago, there were reports never verified, of a mysterious plane flying over the mid-Atlantic.

Delegates From Victoria and Vancouver Hold Private Talk on Proposal

FULL SURVEY WILL BE MADE SHORTLY
"We have had a fine meeting and received a most generous offer of practical co-operation from the Vancouver delegation," George I. Warren, publicly commissioner and managing secretary of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday following a joint conference of representatives of the local chamber and the Vancouver Chamber of Shipping of the proposed improvement project for Victoria's Outer Harbor.

This conference, which was private, was held at the Chamber of Commerce, and the exact findings of the meeting and the nature of the Vancouver delegation's offer were not made public. The session occupied most of the afternoon.

The proposals under consideration, it is understood, are for an extensive dredging of a large section of the Outer Harbor in the area of the Canadian National Oyster Point docks and the Rithet Piers. The move has long been considered necessary for Victoria's development as a commercial port by many local and visiting shipping authorities. It is in line with the chamber's present industrial extension policy, the other phase of which is a commercial airport for Victoria.

TO SURVEY PROJECT
"A thorough survey of the whole project, including the acquisition of complete information as to the necessity of the improvement, probable costs and advantages to be derived by the city from the move, will be made before any expenditure is asked for, Mr. Warren said.

It is not known whether any estimate as to the extent and cost of the work was made during the conference. One authoritative estimate was made here recently when Captain T. V. Hill, commander of the motorship Aorangi, stated that a uniform depth of thirty-five feet in the Outer Harbor would make berthing of big ships at local docks a less risky matter. The statement was made following an announcement that larger steamers may shortly be used on the Canada-Australia run.

The Mainland committee was headed by Captain E. Aikman, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Vancouver, and included also D. M. Cameron and J. H. Hamilton. Members of the Victoria Chamber taking part in the talk were Walter Miles, committee chairman; W. M. Allan, Harold Hubbard, H. T. Barnes, H. B. Elworthy, James Macfarlane, Captain R. W. McMurray, D. D. McTavish and Duncan MacBride.

ROTARY CLUB HAS BIG DAY

Members From United States And Up-Island Attend Inter-City Meeting

It was more of an international than inter-city day for members of the Victoria Rotary Club, yesterday, when visiting Rotarians from many parts of the United States and Up-Island points gathered here for the luncheon in the Empress Hotel and the sports programme held at MacDonald Park later in the afternoon.

W. B. Wilson was chairman of the inter-city committee, and handled the programme of field events, which included races for the children and adults. The scheduled softball game between the Victoria and American Rotarians was cancelled when a shower of rain called a halt to the day's programme.

Ice cream and soft drinks were served at the park, and a spirit of fellowship and good pervaded the large turnout of clubmen. The sports were preceded by an hour's drive around the city.

WELCOME VISITORS

T. J. Goodlake, president, welcomed the visitors at the luncheon, and introduced each one individually, assisted by Lieut.-Colonel H. E. Goodman. Miss Winifred Applegate delighted the 200 guests, gathered in the dining-room, with two soprano solos. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Gwen Harper.

Sweet pea bouquets were provided for all the ladies at the luncheon, through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller.

Others who assisted on the various committees follow: T. J. Goodlake, Alderman James Adam, Alex. Peden, J. V. Johnson, John Doe, A. H. Kerr, Walter Fletcher, M. L. Greene, J. A. MacKay, T. Johnson and Walter Luney.

STAR EVADES CITY CROWDS

Ginger Rogers Uses Tradesmen's Entrance to Dodge Curious Onlookers

GINGER ROGERS

Ginger Rogers, famous screen star and dancing partner of Fred Astaire, does not like crowds.

She made that apparent yesterday when she came to Victoria from Seattle aboard the Ss. Princess Kathleen, and rushed from the boat by a waiting taxicab. Before leaving for the Empress Hotel for luncheon, with three women companions, she briefly greeted newspapermen, brushed off autograph seekers, and pulled a smart blue felt hat down over the famous blue eyes, that were completely hidden by sun glasses.

The reason for her dislike of crowds was evident during her brief stay. Within a few minutes, a crowd had followed her from the boat to the hotel. A few, more curious than others, peered at her in the dining-room. Later, when in response to a message she put in a long distance call, one young man snapped her photograph as she sat in the phone booth.

TIRED AND HARASSED

More alight than she appears on the screen, with a profusion of blonde hair escaping from her hat, Miss Rogers wore no makeup, and seemed tired and harassed. She was dressed in a grey tweed suit, and wore blue shoes. She smiled mechanically when spoken to, and seemingly did not want to be bothered at all.

She relaxed somewhat during luncheon, when she signed an autograph for a small boy who approached her, and chatted with hotel officials. Shortly after she had begun lunch, Acting Mayor James Adam met the party, and greeted Miss Rogers on behalf of the city. She expressed regret that more time in Victoria had not been arranged, and admitted she would like to return.

USE BACK ENTRANCE

The party left the hotel through the kitchen and the tradesmen's entrance, and made their way back to the boat in a private car. They went directly aboard through the wharf freight sheds. Miss Rogers declared that she wanted no photographs taken, and refused comment, except to say that she enjoyed her visit and hoped to return.

Coming here from Seattle yesterday morning, Miss Rogers spent most of the time in her suite, or in company with Captain T. Cliffe in the pilot house. There were over 1,100 persons on board, and each time she appeared, a crowd gathered. The star is on vacation, seeking complete rest, and from Vancouver will continue to Banff and Lake Louise, where she hopes to find some succor from the crowds.

AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (AP)—Mildly amazed at the crowds which thronged the pier to greet her arrival from Victoria, Ginger Rogers, red-headed film star, left here tonight for Lake Louise, Alta.

"I came to Canada to be alone," Miss Rogers said. "I didn't think they bothered anyone up here."

During the forty minutes between her arrival and departure, Miss Rogers had ample opportunity to change her mind. A crowd of 5,000, who missed the actress when she was whisked off the boat by the freight elevator, thronged the station, shouting.

"We want Ginger!" It was the dancing star's first visit to Canada, but her impressions so far were limited. Crowds handicapped her brief glimpse of Victoria when she arrived there this morning from Seattle, and 1,100 passengers on the Princess Kathleen drove her to the bridge of the vessel for seclusion. Miss Rogers said she didn't know how long she would stay in the Canadian Rockies.

Killed by Wheels

Of Freight Train

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (AP)—Albert Aston, of Port Alberni, B.C., died instantly today beneath the wheels of a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train.

Police identified him from papers found in his pockets.

Allen Christie, who saw the accident from a flat car on a nearby siding, said Aston fell or threw himself between two cars near the end of the slow-moving train.

HAY DESTROYED IN NIGHT FIRE

Smouldering Blaze Takes Toll of 100 Tons in Scott & Peden Warehouse

Approximately 100 tons of timothy and clover hay were destroyed by fire and smoke in an outbreak that swept the Scott & Peden, Ltd., warehouse at the foot of Telegraph Street, Wednesday evening.

Fire equipment in charge of Deputy Chief Joseph Raymond was kept busy from 8 to 11:15 o'clock combatting the smouldering fire. Men were left on watch until early yesterday morning to prevent the possibility of further trouble.

A number of bales were tossed by firemen into the Inner Harbor. Part of the building had to be torn down to get at the contents, and the arid smoke made fire fighting extremely difficult.

W. Scott, of Scott & Peden, Ltd., was of the opinion that the fire started from spontaneous combustion or a spark from the nearby incinerator. He stated the hay was insured.

you'll swing into "Main Street" at 50—

predicts NORMAN BEL GEDDES, Authority on Future Trends

"Main Street won't be a 'stop street' in 1960," says Mr. Geddes.

"Conveniently located ramps will feed traffic from Local Streets into Express Streets at speeds up to 50 miles an hour."

"Local Streets will be made wider by the elevation of sidewalks and the elimination of curb parking. You'll walk, shop and cross streets on the second-story level."

"Cars will park . . . trucks will load in open areas beneath buildings."

.but TODAY, 4 miles in 5 are Stop and Go

DID YOU KNOW that one stop can waste enough gasoline to drive your car 5 city blocks? And 30 stops a day is the nation-wide average!

Mile for mile, stop and go is the most expensive kind of driving you do!

While traffic authorities plan "the City of Tomorrow," Shell engineers have developed a fuel, Super-Shell, to meet today's driving problem today!

They have found a way to rearrange the chemical structure of gasoline . . . actually to balance it.

Automotive engineers use the term "motor-digestible" to describe Super-Shell, because at all motor speeds it is converted so quickly, so completely into power.

You'll cut the cost of your stop and go by the regular use of Super-Shell. There's a Shell dealer near you.

Grand Regent Is Welcomed On Visit Here

On arriving in Victoria on Monday from Seattle, Victoria Chapter No. 25 extended a warm welcome to Mrs. E. Starkey, grand regent of Women of the Moose for Canada, United States, Hawaii and Alaska, who was met by Senior Regent M. Carter and Past Regent E. Jane and A. Hatcher, and taken for a drive to Mr. R. P. Butchart's gardens and other scenic routes. She was later taken to dinner at Spencer's dining-room.

With Senior Regent M. Carter presiding and a large attendance of members present, a successful meeting took place in the K. of P. Hall. Past Regent A. Hatcher reported on the recent card party and an interesting report of "Home-making" was given by Junior Regent D. Guelph. Plans for a social meeting will be announced later. Following the 9 o'clock ceremony, Maple Leaf Legion No. 53 remained to hear a most interesting address by the grand regent.

On behalf of the legion, Mr. W. Kettle thanked the grand regent for her inspiring address. On behalf of the chapter, Senior Regent M. Carter presented the grand regent with a gift as a token of appreciation in honoring Victoria chapter by her visit. The meeting then adjourned until August 26. Supper was served and the evening brought to a close by singing of "She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne."

Club Will Hold Hard Luck Dance

The announcement that members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club would hold a "hard luck dance" this evening has attracted a great deal of interest among the younger set and it is expected that there will be a large crowd. A popular orchestra has been engaged for the evening and the invitations state that "old clothes" will be de rigueur for the evening.

Are Starting for Trail Ride

Accompanied by a guide, Miss Marjorie MacDonald (centre) and Miss Barry Prowd, both of Vancouver, are shown during the ride of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, on the way to Mount Assiniboine.

Girls Enjoy Trip To Plateau Camp

Thirteen girls from Four Winds Camp, Deerharbor Wash., recently invaded the Forbidden Plateau. Arriving early on Saturday morning, they commandeered all the available saddle horses at the lodge and rode over the Mount Beecher Skyline Trail to McKenzie Lake Camp for lunch and then on to Mariwood Lake Camp, where they spent the night.

The next day was spent exploring the scenic features of the district and the evening around a roaring campfire. On Monday they rode out to the lodge. On Tuesday morning the party left for Deerharbor via Victoria over the Vancouver Island Coach Lines bus from Courtenay. Those in the party were Miss Ruth A. Brown, Seattle; Miss Abbie Graham, Detroit; Marjorie Crouch, San Francisco; Julie MacDonald, Pasadena, Calif.; Patricia Buchner, Barbara Hines, Jane Holland, Portland, Ore.; Meta Todd, Santa Barbara, Dorothy Sablin, Pasadena; Susan Stimmel, San Francisco; Mary Tanney, Berkeley; Cherie Sutton, Piedmont, Calif.; Bertine Hayes, Los Angeles; Mary Lou Razzo, Piedmont; Irene Hixon, Pasadena.

The consensus of opinion was that the Forbidden Plateau excelled everything they had hitherto experienced.

Jean—Fashions may come and go, but there's always a demand for cosmetics.

June—Yes, woman can't go on forever.

Interesting Visitor Here

Miss Ellen Molyneux, whose clothes sense is second only to that of her world-famous cousin, Edward Molyneux, of Paris, London and Monte Carlo, designer of clothes for such sophisticates as the Duchess of Kent, and associated with him in business for eight years, is spending a holiday at the Empress Hotel. Since starting by picking up pins in the hat room, she became manageress of the Paris and afterwards of the London house.

"It was a hard row to hoe with Edward," she reminisced in an interview here, her words coming swiftly in her peculiarly attractive husky voice. "He didn't believe I could be serious. I'd been on the stage for ten years. Played London, toured the United States, supported Al Jolson in New York; danced most everywhere. That's why the pins. I had to prove myself."

South African born, educated in Germany, where she was school friend of the Dumas, of Victoria, she had seen a good deal of sophisticated life, social and stage, in a very short time when she joined her cousin.

A nervous breakdown caused her to leave him after opening the London house in May, 1932. With a small Queen Anne house in Chancery Street, London, as her English home, accompanied by a French maid who has been with her for thirteen years, she has pretty well wandered the globe since.

She comes to Victoria from a large ranch in Wyoming, where she has been the guest of the actress, Hope Williams.

Garden Fete Being Planned by Church

A garden party will be held next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George Piercy, 810 Linden Avenue, under the auspices of the Fairfield United Church. The proceeds will be in aid of church funds and the occasion will provide an opportunity of the parishioners to meet the new pastor, Rev. Norman J. Cree, and Mrs. Cree.

The affair will continue from 2 to 5 p.m. and an attractive musical programme is being arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. George Gordon.

His Worship the Mayor and Mrs. Andrew McGavin will be among the guests.

Clubs-Societies

Court Liberty. Juvenile Ancient Order of Foresters, will hold its regular meeting this evening in the Foresters Hall at 7:30 o'clock. After the meeting there will be games. Members are reminded to bring refreshments.

Y.W.C.A. Notes

DRESSMAKING. As a further development of vocational training for young women, the Y.W.C.A. is co-operating with the Department of Education in sponsoring a class in the art of dressmaking. This course will be conducted throughout the year. It is open to girls and young women who are at present unemployed, and desirous of becoming efficient in sewing with the idea of following dressmaking as a career. Good business methods will be emphasized. The class will be in session every day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., except Saturday.

No fee will be charged, but each student, as far as possible, will be expected to provide sewing tools and material with which to work. This makes it possible to bring material for personal use and for others of the family connection. A similar class in Vancouver has had a very large registration, and students are following on from the elementary section to the more advanced work.

Class work will commence on the regular date for school opening in September, but registrations should be made without delay at the Y.W.C.A.

BUSINESS COURSE. During the past two years, well over one hundred stenographers who were temporarily out of employment, have been enabled to maintain speed in shorthand and typing by the accommodation provided by the Y.W.C.A. and later by the Department of Education in conjunction with the city school board. Commencing again in September, practice hours will be from 3 to 5 o'clock three afternoons a week. Weekly tests are given and speed records kept. No charge is made for this service. Registrations should be made early at the Y.W.C.A.

Miss Mary Foyer, a September bride-to-be, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Mona Jewell on Wednesday evening at her home on Chandler Avenue. The gifts were presented to the guest of honor by Miss Valerie McAllister and Annette Cole dressed as pink roses, the gifts being concealed beneath a large rose petal parasol. J. Church and Miss Sadie Craig poured, while assisting in service were the Misses Margaret and Florence Foyer and Mrs. A. E. Cobus. The guests included: Mesdames J. Foyer, M. Craig, A. Swan, C. The pretty shower gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a large basket gaily decorated with var-colored crepe paper. Bingo was played during the evening, after which supper was served. The table had a bride's cake as its centerpiece, with pink and white trimming and a tiny bride group on top. Tall silver vases containing pink sweet peas stood on either side of the cake, and completed this effective motif. Miss Edna Messerschmidt assisted the hostess in serving. About fifteen guests were present.

MOBILIZE FOREIGN TROOPS IN SHANGHAI

regular troops, under direction of the Central Government, were moving into the Shanghai area.

MOBILIZE ALL POWER

The Japanese immediately mobilized all their available power. Backed by twenty-one warships lying in the Whangpoo River, just off Shanghai, they arrayed their formidable naval landing party for combat.

This force, estimated at from 5,000 to 8,000, took up battle positions along the northern fringe of the Japanese section of the international settlement and on the roads extending into Chinese-administered areas to the north.

An international peace conference trying to find a peaceful solution broke down, leaving Chinese soldiers and Japanese blue-jackets facing each other from behind sandbag barricades and machine-gun emplacements along Shanghai's northern fringe.

A NO-MAN'S LAND

Northern Shanghai had become virtually a no-man's land. The civilian populace had disappeared. All stores were closed and barred.

On the international settlement side of the line, grim Japanese naval sentries were on patrol. Just across the boundary, in Chapel, scene of bloody fighting in 1932, men of Nanking's crack 88th Division patrolled the empty streets.

Authoritative estimates were lacking of how many Chinese troops hovered at the gates of Shanghai or gathered nearby. The Chinese refused to disclose any figures. Japanese said there were at least 7,500.

In Nanking, the Foreign Office declared the Shanghai crisis had become so acute "there is no way left for China but to resist Japanese aggression and violence."

Responsibility for this ominous situation, the statement said, rests entirely with Japan.

While the battle for possession of Nanking Pass—key to continuance of Japan's newly-won control of the Peiping-Tientsin region—went on in the mountainous northwest yesterday, contingents of the Chinese 29th Army were reported to have defeated Japanese forces a few miles outside Tientsin.

CARRY OUT RAIDS

About 10,000 men of the 29th Chinese Army, disastrously defeated in previous encounters with the Japanese Kwantung Army, remained at Machang, twenty miles south of Tientsin, carrying out raids against Japanese trains and army detachments.

They struck suddenly yesterday near Yangtulin, about six miles southwest of Tientsin, on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway. The Japanese were reported to have fallen back to the edge of Tientsin.

Japanese military experts admitted it would be difficult to dislodge the Chinese from Nankow's three passes, which are protected by a network of forts.

With them he coupled members of the staff of the municipality for their excellent work.

HUGE SOVIET PLANE OVER POLAR REGION

He said the Russians radiated that weather conditions were very good, "almost ideal, and that they would pass directly over the North Pole about 11 p.m. (P.S.T.)."

The message said they expected to climb five miles above the earth while passing over the Pole because of weather disturbances in that area.

Varianian is chief engineer of the Amtorg Trading Corporation of Russia, with headquarters in New York City. He is the Soviet Embassy's official representative for the flight.

He said the flyers would not venture to Chicago or New York because no arrangements had been made between the Coast and those points for weather data, etc. He said arrangements had already been made in San Francisco for the plane's arrival at the Oakland Airport.

STOP AT EDMONTON

EDMONTON, Aug. 12 (C)—Captain James Bell, Edmonton Municipal Airport manager, said tonight that a Mr. Umansky of the Soviet Embassy at Washington telephoned him at 7:20 p.m. (P.S.T.) informing him that the Russian flyer Levanevsky, now on a trans-Polar hop from Moscow, would make a stop in Edmonton. Captain Bell said Umansky also told him that he, Umansky, is "instructing our representative at Seattle to charter an airplane to fly to Edmonton tomorrow to meet the Russian flyers there."

Meanwhile, Captain Bell said, he is continuing to round up ten tons of airplane gas for the Polar plane.

TAKE OFF FROM MOSCOW

(Copyright, 1937, by Hayes Press Agency)
MOSCOW, Aug. 12—Sigmund Levanevsky, famous Soviet aviator who completed the first Los Angeles-Moscow flight via Canada, Alaska and Siberia last September, sped toward the North Pole tonight in the giant four-motored plane M-209 on the first attempt at a Moscow-New York flight via the North Pole.

The plane, carrying a crew of six and weighing thirty-five tons loaded, took off from nearby Chelkovo airport at 6:13 p.m. (8:13 a.m. P.S.T.) with weather conditions over the North Pole reported somewhat uncertain.

Levanevsky planned to stop at Fairbanks, Alaska, and Edmonton to refuel before heading for New York via Chicago.

Also in the plane were Navigator Levchenko, Second Pilot Kostenko, Mechanic Pobozhimoff, Second Mechanic Godovikoff and Radio Operator Galkovskiy.

STRONG WINDS AT POLE

Levanevsky said he hoped to reach Fairbanks in thirty hours at a speed of about 145 miles an hour, although strong winds were reported in the polar region. He then planned to stop at Edmonton and continue to New York by way of Chicago. The aviator said he would not land at Chicago unless he had to.

He refused to guess when he would reach New York since, he said, he would not push the plane too hard because his flight was an attempt to prove the possibility of commercial flights under commercial conditions.

In view of the weather reports, Levanevsky said he would fly much higher approaching Alaska than the aviators who preceded him on the trans-polar route. He planned to climb about five and a half miles.

Both Levanevsky and his navigator expressed some apprehension that the Fairbanks airfield might not be solid enough for their heavy plane to take off well.

HAS FOUR MOTORS

Levanevsky's plane was built in 1935. Each of its four motors has a capacity of 850 horsepower and is equipped with a metal propeller and special defrosting apparatus. It has flown 31,000 miles.

There is a powerful radio receiving set aboard with long and short wave equipment, as well as a short wave sending set which functions on a seventeen-metre wave length.

RANGE OUT OF BOUNDS

A. W. Evans, secretary of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association, announced yesterday that Heals Range will be out of bounds to members of the local association until further notice.

MARINE AND TRANSPORTATION

AIR ROUTE MAY SERVE PACIFICImperial Airways Officials
Discuss Service From
Antipodes to Province

LONDON, Aug. 12 (P)—Under impetus of the Government's policy to have Empire airmail carried at no additional postage cost over other methods, the air-routes are pushing on.

Announcement was made today Imperial Airways, Limited, has received eighteen of the twenty-eight large planes ordered from Short Brothers. In making the announcement, the Society of British Aircraft Constructors added that an increase in the order was probably due to anticipated expansion of the "no surcharge" delivery plan is causing.

Big four-motored flying boats drone regularly to South Africa with airmail and passengers. The service to Karachi, India, was expected to be in operation by the end of September. Continuation of that service to Singapore was contemplated by October or November, authorities declared.

AUSTRALIAN ROUTE

Little possibility was seen that the service would be completed to Australia before next year, as the wet season made it impossible to complete the necessary bases between Port Darwin on the north and Sydney in time. Next June appeared the earliest date for scheduled service to the Commonwealth.

Australia and New Zealand are working on plans for service across the Tasman Sea with an over-water jump of 1,450 miles. Fuel for 2,000 miles probably would be carried to provide a safe margin for adverse weather. Such a performance would be well within the capacity of the flying boats, as shown by flights of 2,000 miles between Ireland and Newfoundland recently, and nonstop flights over the 2,300-mile route between Britain and Egypt.

In the future—not too far distant—authorities said, the regular British flights across the Pacific.

Hops from the Antipodes to Hawaii and thence to British Columbia would be within the flying boats' range as Britain finally tied the globe together with Empire craft flying a complete circuit.

NEREUS CREW
LEAVES PORTThirty-Four From Wrecked
Greek Ship to Sail From Montreal August 18

In charge of Captain John Catalano and Chief-Engineer John Kotzros, thirty-four members of the wrecked Greek freighter Nereus crew will leave for Vancouver this afternoon to sail from Montreal for Liverpool aboard the S. Montrose on August 18. They are due at London on August 25 and will proceed from there to Greece, with exception of two Finns en route to their homes in Finland.

Early Sunday morning the Nereus ran ashore in the fog at Cape Beale and became a total loss. She is partially insured, and on Wednesday was abandoned to insurance underwriters to be sold "where is, as is." She was to have loaded lumber here for the United Kingdom today, after a call at Port Alberni. Her cargo will be taken by the Dallington Court on August 20. Although the freighter was in ballast and carried no cargo when she struck the rocks, her provisions and fittings are deemed worth saving. She is in an exposed position on the West Coast and in danger of breaking up.

LEAN YEAR FOR
WHEAT COMINGRising Marine Freight Rates
On Pacific Coast to Affect Annual Trade

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (P)—Rising marine freight rates on the Pacific Ocean will probably mean a lean year for the wheat business at British Columbia ports, Vancouver grain brokers and elevator operators forecast today.

These sources, declining to be quoted by name, said that until a few weeks ago Pacific Coast ports had expected to handle more than 50 per cent of this season's Alberta crop, estimated at 80,000,000 bushels, or slightly more than one-half Canada's entire 1937 production.

But rising freight rates, they said, are rapidly changing the outlook to the disadvantage of the Pacific. "Western wheat movement now hinges entirely on freight rates," one leading Vancouver grain man said. "With rates rising, with freight movement other than grain heavy, and many cargo boats withdrawn from the Pacific by the Japanese Government's action in commandeering freighters for war purposes, the prospect is not encouraging for a heavy wheat movement through Vancouver."

He stated general opinion here was that rates would go "ever higher." Meanwhile, he said, the Great Lakes rates are low, and are an inducement to shipping grain eastward instead of west.

SIGNAL SUCCESS

There had been a lot of accidents on the line, express trains frequently running into the rear of "locals," with disastrous results. Experts gave their opinion, but the advice of a local porter was taken. "It's always the rear coach of the 'local' that gets smashed up," he said, "so why not take it off?" The local's advice and gave him a gold medal.

Yanks and Red Sox Divide Twin Bill; Cubs Badly Beaten

Boston Captures Heavy-Hitting Game, 16-10, and Then New York Wins Pitching Duel—Foxy Hits Two Homers and DiMaggio His Thirty-Fourth—Pirates Trim Cubs

AMERICAN LEAGUE

BOSTON, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Yankees and Red Sox went to the field today to play the first of a double-header and wind up just where they started in the American League pennant chase, with 20,283 fans on hand.

They hit any and all kinds of pitches in the burlesque opener, with the Sox slugging out a 16-10 victory to end the Yanks' ten-game winning streak. Bump Hadley bested Archie McKain in a tight pitching duel in the nightcap, with the Yanks finishing on top, 3-2.

Jimmy Foxy belted a homer in each game, his thirtieth and thirty-first. Joe DiMaggio walloped his thirty-fourth of the year in the nightcap.

Also hitting homers were Tony Lazzeri, Eric McNair, Myril Hoag and Joe Cronin.

Indians Blank Browns

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians landed on Edon Hogsett, who relieved Jack Knott, in the eighth inning, for five hits and five runs today to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 7-0, and make a clean sweep of the three-game series.

The Tribe had scored single tallies in the fifth and sixth off Hogsett. Willis Hudlin, pitching for the Indians, won his seventh game of the season, scattering the Browns' nine hits.

Divide Double-Header

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP).—Manager Jimmy Dukes' pinch single with two out and the bases loaded in the tenth, after pinch-hitter Leon (Goose) Goslin's eighth-inning home run had sent the game into overtime, won the Chicago White Sox a 6-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers and an even break in today's twin bill.

Charlie Gehring figured in ten of the runs that gave Detroit an 11-8 triumph in the opener.

First Game—R H E
Chicago ..... 000 200 420—8 10 1
Detroit ..... 001 063 40x—11 10 2

Single Decides Game

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP).—A ninth-inning single by Third Baseman Buddy Lewis scored the winning run for Washington today and gave the Senators a 5-4 victory over the Athletics. Lewis' single scored Mel Almada from second base.

The Senators went into the eighth inning trailing by 4 to 1, but with two out they staged a three-run rally to tie the score and drive Harry Kelley from the box. Lynn Nelson relieved him.

Washington ..... 000 000 131—5 12 1

Batteries: Kelley, Nelson and Brucker; Deshong, Jacobs, Cohen and R. Ferrell.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Cubs looked like anything but league leaders today as Pittsburgh's Pirates, led by Lloyd Waner and Wilbur Brubaker, pounded four of their pitchers for fourteen hits and profited by six Chicago errors for a 16-6 victory before 10,971 fans.

The defeat cost the Cubs the series, two games to one, and the loss of their ace catcher, Gabby Hartnett, for a few days, but their National League lead of six and one-half games over the Giants remained intact.

Hartnett's right index finger was badly bruised by a foul tip off Tommy Padden's bat in the fourth inning, and he will be out for several days.

Dutch Brandt, who started the game for Pittsburgh, was sidelined as a result of being hit on the right ankle by a drive off Billy Herman's bat.

Phils Capture Fair

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Phillies came within half a game of climbing out of the National League cellar today by whipping the seventh-place Brooklyn Dodgers in both ends of a double-header, 3-2 and 8-2.

Hugh Mulcahy, big rookie flinger, stopped the Dodgers with three hits in the opener. The Phils staked Claude Pascau to a seven-run lead by the end of the fourth inning of the nightcap, and he coasted in to the victory.

Giants Go Under

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP).—Tony Cucinello, whose homer with two aboard whipped the Giants on Tuesday, drove in four runs today to give the Boston Bees a 6-4 victory over the New Yorkers and a sweep of the two-game series.

His liner in the first drove in one Boston run, his single in the second sent another pair across, and his base hit in the ninth produced an unneeded tally, after Gil English's single in the eighth had broken a tie to put the game on ice for the Bees.

Will Fight Here Tonight

Henry Woods, colored Yakima boxer and Washington State lightweight king, is pictured above standing on the scales during the weighing-in ceremonies for tonight's ten round mix with "Frenchy" Beaudin, rugged Montrealer, at the Royal Athletic Park. Jack McAnena, talkative manager of Woods, is on the right and appears to be deeply interested in the proceedings. Beaudin and Woods are appearing in the top bout of an all-star fistfight being presented under the auspices of the city's seventy-fifth anniversary committee. The Yakima fighter has been boxing for seven years, and has engaged in over eighty bouts. Beaudin is well known to Victoria boxing fans, and in his last appearance here punched his way to a clean-cut victory over Albert's Harry Miller. Gordon Currie Smith, Vancouver, former British Columbia bantamweight champion, and Dud Miller, hard-hitting Alberni youngster, will battle in the six-round semi-windup. Three four rounders and a three-rounder will complete the programme, with the first mix scheduled to start at 8:30 o'clock. Louis Callan, well-known local boxing referee, will handle all bouts and make all decisions.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Perfect Embalming—Dr. Bartlett Durham, founder of the City of Durham, N.C., died in 1857 at the age of thirty-five. His body was placed in a cast-iron, airtight coffin, with a heavy glass window over his face, and interred in the Durham cemetery in a grave eight feet deep. Seventy-seven years later, in 1934, it was disinterred for removal, and much to the astonishment of the coffin-movers, they found the body in a perfect state of preservation and natural in every detail—just like the portrait of Dr. Durham which hangs in the county court house.

The body and coffin were removed to the Hall-Wynne Funeral Parlor where it remained six months, more than 15,000 people viewing the remains of their city father of so long ago. The exact means used to result in such perfect preservation are not known, since the now popular methods of embalming did not come into use until after the War between the States.

Vancouver Island softball finals will open at the Royal Athletic Park on Tuesday, August 17, with the winner of the Bruins-New Method Laundry series battling the Up-Island champions in the first of the three-game series. Nanaimo and Hillcrest Lumber Company nines open their Up-Island finals tonight.

THIRTEEN HITS

It was the fuelmen who did the firing as they crashed out thirteen base knocks from what Eric Moir and Sid Carr tossed up at them. Moir started on the hillcock and lasted for three and one-third innings. During his short stay he was nicked for seven hits which the Bruins made good for a like number of runs. Sid Carr took over the

Play Smart Ball Behind Pitching of Harold Turner And Register Fine Victory—Eric Moir Goes to Showers in Fourth Inning—Knapp Crashes Homer in Eighth—Final Tomorrow

Those fighting Bruins, almost counted out of the Lower Island softball playoffs after dropping the first two games to the New Method Laundry, are today very much in the fight for the title and the right to represent Victoria in the Vancouver Island play-downs. They placed themselves back in the battle Tuesday evening when they defeated the laundrymen, 8-0, in the third game, and then came back last night with a 10-4 triumph to even the series at two games apiece.

Tomorrow evening the teams will take the diamond at the Royal Athletic Park in the fifth and deciding game. Play will commence at 6:20 o'clock. Lower Island Softball Association officials announced last night that four umpires will officiate with the lineup as follows: Home plate, Pick; first base, Stock; second base, Hardy; third base, Watt.

Apparently capable of playing better ball when the going is tough, Bruins turned in a smart performance and were certainly the better team. New Method Laundry, hitting the skids after two straight triumphs, played ragged ball and allowed "boners" to creep into their play at crucial stages of the important battle. With the willow the laundrymen lacked the hitting power of earlier games and were only able to punch out eight safeties from the offerings of Harold Turner, Bruins' twirler.

Fuelmen kept up their attack and scored once in the third and three times in the fourth before Eric Moir started on the hillcock and lasted for three and one-third innings. During his short stay he was nicked for seven hits which the Bruins made good for a like number of runs. Sid Carr took over the heavy work from Moir and after three frames of scoreless ball was touched for a trio of markers in the eighth and final inning, the game being called at this stage because of darkness.

New Method Laundry crashed the scoring column as early as the initial frame when they pushed a pair of runners across the home plate. It gave them a 2-0 lead, but only until the first half of the next inning, when the Bruins sent three men scampering around the cautious when they bunched four bingles.

Fuelmen kept up their attack and scored once in the third and three times in the fourth before Eric Moir started on the hillcock and lasted for three and one-third innings. the turn, one up. Schwengers reached the ninth in 39 and Ruggles required one more.

INCREASES LEAD

Starting on the homeward journey, Schwengers went two up with a par four on the tenth to Ruggles' five. Ruggles captured the next two holes with a fair of fives to square the match again. Par threes halved the next two, while fives and fours were good enough to halve the fifteenth and sixteenth holes. Schwengers became dominant at the seventeenth with a birdie four. The winner was also back in 39 for a 78 and Ruggles had a 39 for a 79.

Jumping at one of the few opportunities facing him on the outward route, R. E. Thatcher arrived at the ninth following a one-up lead. W. B. Knickerbocker, Vancouver, the tournament medalist, and E. L. Mann, Wenatchee, will meet in the final of the first flight.

The halved the eleventh and twelfth and then Garrett took the two short holes, the thirteenth and fourteenth with par threes to square the match. He carried on his triumphant march by winning the next hole with a four and then captured his fourth in succession with a three to become dormie.

They halved the seventeenth and the match was all over, 2 and 1. W. B. Knickerbocker, Vancouver, the tournament medalist, and E. L. Mann, Wenatchee, will meet in the final of the first flight.

W. H. Abbott, Bellingham, defaulting to him, G. O. Nettleton, Spokane, and J. E. Wilson, twice a grand champion, worked their way into the final of the class "A" championship. The former eliminated T. H. Horne, 5 and 4, while the latter accounted for R. W. Gibson, retiring president of the association, two up.

CHALK UP 10-4 WIN OVER LAUNDRY NINE

Moir, laundrymen's hurler, went to the showers. Sid Carr came to the rescue and for three frames held the rampaging Bruins in check. Along came the eighth inning and three more runs for the fuelmen.

Harold Turner, blond-thatched twirler, worked the distance for the fuelmen and pitched good ball.

After the laundrymen's two runs in the initial stanza he held them scoreless for six frames. It was the eighth inning, the last of the game, before the New Method boys scored again. Aided by a circuit clout by Lloyd Knapp, hard-hitting receiving ace, singles by Holmes and O'Connell and two wild pitches by Turner, the laundrymen pushed across two markers, the final runs of the fixture.

Lloyd Knapp led the hitters with three hits out of four trips to the plate.

DICK POWELL IN PRINCIPAL ROLE

Singing Star Has Lead in Musical Comedy, "The Singing Marine"—Large Cast

"Dick Powell, Warner Bros. hand-picked singing star, who was seen in "Gold Diggers of 1937," will appear again today on the screen of the Capitol Theatre in another immense musical comedy, "The Singing Marine."

This is a yarn about a "leatherneck" from San Diego barracks, possessed of plenty of good looks and a splendid voice, who is sent to New York by his company mates to have a try at the amateur hour contest conducted by the famous "Major Rows."

AGE-WEIGHT-HEIGHT

Many years ago, finding that the table of weights and heights didn't just seem to work out correctly in a number of cases, I tried to work out one that I thought would be more accurate. I had the records of hundreds of examinations.

I soon learned, as others had learned before me, that there are various types of individuals—the long lean and the short stout type, the type with the short body and long legs, and the type with the long body and short legs. I decided, therefore, to strike an average weight for the man of average height—five feet seven inches—and for a woman of average height—five feet four inches. Then if the individual was of the type with the long body and short legs I added five to seven pounds (because the body or trunk weighs more than the legs) and if the short body and long legs type I subtracted five to seven pounds.

Thus while the man of average or normal build should weigh 150 pounds, one with the long body should weigh 155 to 157 pounds and if of short body and long legs he should weigh 143 to 145 pounds. Similarly with women. The average weight for the average woman of five feet four inches is about 130 pounds and the same rule (adding or subtracting five pounds), according to length of legs and body applies.

Of course, the above applies to adults—men and women of about thirty years of age, as we are not "supposed" to get much heavier or lighter after the age of thirty.

However age enters into the matter from the insurance or health standpoint. Thus Dr. Milton Thorp, Nashville, Tenn., in a letter to the editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, gives an interesting formula which conforms to the usual "standard weight" tables issued by insurance companies. "Multiply the number of inches above five feet by five and a half and add 110 for adults under thirty-five years of age. For adults over thirty-five years of age add ten pounds more. Thus for a person twenty-five to thirty years of age and seventy inches in height, ten times five and a half plus 110 equals 165 pounds. If thirty-five years of age the weight should be 175 pounds."

While Dr. Thorp gives no tables for women, if we multiply every inch over five feet by four and a half (instead of five and a half) and add 110 pounds, it would be about right. Thus a woman of five feet four inches, thirty years of age, would weigh four times four and a half—eighteen—plus 110 = 128 pounds; very close to 130.

A conscientious woman is one who never breaks a confidence without first imposing the strictest secrecy.

Interrupted Romance

by Julie Anne Moore

CHAPTER VII

Polly has surprised Norris Fordell on his knees before a small secret safe, the entire hinged wall of books pulled out so that his rigid bent figure was between the sliding bookshelves and the true wall. She stared down at the man's pale face, wanting terribly to say something to relieve the tension. In that moment before Fordell got to his feet and the color began to flow back into his cheeks, her one impulse was to back out of that room and run.

Then he was standing, smiling. "You gave me an awful fright, Miss Markey." The confused look went out of his heavy-lidded eyes. "Please sit down—and don't feel you've intruded. The safe and its combination are secrets my secretary must know."

Polly sat down, blew out her breath in a long whistle—and was suddenly laughing. "And did you give me a fright? I was sure you were all asleep." Garbrook told me you had a late night conference. I'm awfully sorry, Mr. Fordell."

He bent over, took something from the little safe, closed the heavy door and a moment later pushed the swinging bookshelves into place.

"I hope I haven't given you the wrong impression on your first day," he said, moving toward his desk. "I have very little of value here, but there are a few things I'd rather not have lying around. Such as this."

His lifted hand held a small roll of notepaper, perhaps half a dozen sheets twisted into a little cylinder, not much larger than an ordinary cigar and held thus by a red string wrapped several times around the roll.

Fordell dropped the tightly rolled papers on his desk as he sat down and bent his white head to consult his watch. "I think perhaps you should forget about business until after lunch, Miss Markey," he said pleasantly. "I have an appointment at ten o'clock. I'll have the girl show you your room. You'll want to get settled." He was almost at the door when he said, "Your room connects with Tod's. You have no objections, I hope."

"Certainly not." He rang a bell, a colored girl answered it, and Polly said, "I'll be here immediately after lunch."

An elderly colored man took her bag up, followed by the maid, who was young and light-skinned and talked with a flat, lazy drawl. The girl said her name was Tilda, and added, "Come my pa, but Piney ain't no kin."

Came, it developed, was the old but by no means feeble colored man who had walked ahead with Polly's bag. Piney was the cook. There were no other servants, Tilda said. She and her father lived in a small house on the far side of the island. Piney had a family on Mt. Pleasant and came and went on the Charleston bus.

The maid departed. Polly looked around her room and liked it. Adequately furnished, but nothing fancy. From one of its two wide windows she looked out across the island and saw a trim white yacht moving up the inlet which she knew was part of the famed Inland Waterway. There was an upstairs porch, which ran the full width of the house, and she told herself, "When it gets too hot to sleep inside, I'll crawl out this window and

Jane Dixon Says:

WHEN A MAN REALLY LOVES A WOMAN HE FINDS A WAY TO LET HER KNOW ABOUT IT

When a man really cares for a woman, and feels that she is more than a passing fancy in his life, he finds a way to let her know about it. So many of you girls and you women write to me to say, "I think he cares for me, but I'm not sure."

If he does care for you, seriously, you will be sure. There was never a burning love, worthy the name, that hid its light under a bushel.

If you are free to love, and he is free to love, and he doesn't tell you about it—he does not love you.

Dear Miss Dixon—Here are some of the things I would like to know:

1. There is a man in town that is really nice looking, well groomed, with a good personality. Every time I am near him (that is when I go where he is working), he asks me about my going out with other boys. He never comes out and asks me for a date. I do not mean to insinuate that I love this man, but I do care for him to a certain extent. Do you think he cares for me? What is his idea in asking me always about my dates with other boys?

2. About a month ago I met a nice-looking dark man, and have had some dates with him. I seem to like this boy a lot and I think he likes me, too. But he is always telling me I am much more indifferent than any girl he knows. Do I inherit this fault? The boy is going with another girl who is not so well thought of in this town. Should I continue seeing him? Do you think he cares for me? How can I tell?

When I go to the place where he works he is very friendly, and he will not allow me to pay for anything I buy. Should I insist in paying? Sally E.

Comment: Perhaps both of these men like you, but I doubt that either has a serious affection for you. If they did have such an affection you would know about it. The first man's asking you about your dates with other boys may mean nothing more than that he is inclined to tease. If he really cared he would ask you for a date himself.

As to the nice-looking dark man, I'm afraid he is "ribbing" you too, for I'm sure you are not indifferent toward him. If by indifference he means you conduct yourself with dignity and a degree of restraint, he is paying you a compliment even though he does not mean it as such.

A lack of interest in things or in people is not an inherited fault. It is a state of mind, and is indicative of a cold and selfish nature and a minimum of appreciation of life and of living. A person who cannot respond to the opportunities, the experiences, the verve that makes up our pattern for living is a pretty flashy sort of a human. Either such persons need a good kick to pep them up physically or they need a jolt that will awaken them from their mental lethargy.

Continue to see the young man so long as he behaves like a gentleman in your company. If he is clean and wholesome, and the town's condemnation of the other girl is just, he will drop her.

You do not need to be told ways to find out whether a man has a heart interest in you.

Every heart is its own spokesman.

The Minister of Defence said he would recommend a survey of feasible methods of removing the rock. For years controversy raged
